About Williamsburg

Colonial Williamsburg is the nation's largest outdoor living history museum. It encompasses 301 acres including some 500 public buildings, homes, stores and taverns reconstructed and restored to their 18th-century appearances. Be among the first guests to experience the newly renovated Williamsburg Lodge—one of John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s original Colonial Williamsburg hotels. Completely renovated in 2006, this hotel is adjacent to a luxurious new spa and the renowned Golden Horseshoe Golf Club, in walking distance to nine additional restaurants, including four historic dining taverns, and steps from 26 Shops of Colonial Williamsburg and 40 boutiques.

Special discounted tickets to the Historic Area sites and museums are available to HR Forum attendees. Tickets are $15 and are good for duration of the conference. See registration form for details.
